HOW IT LOOKS

To the People who are on the Ground.

THE FRIENDS OF THE PRESIDENT

Claim that he Will be Nominated on the First Ballot.

WHILE MR. BLAINE'S FOLLOWERS

Say that Nothing can Stop the Rush to his Banner.

THE WEST VIRGINIA DELEGATION

Is Entertained by Ex-Senator Platt in His Private Car--He Says That Blaine will not Refuse the Nomination if Tendered--Mr. Hart Says That the West Virginia Delegation Takes Blaine at his Word in Declining to Run, and will Vote for Harrison--Interesting Gossip of Delegates on the Spot.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

COCONOWAC, Wis., June 3.—The West Virginia delegation was entertained by Senator T. C. Platt, of New York, in his special car to-night, at which time the boys were favored with an exceedingly frank expression of his views on the subject of the Presidential nomination. Mr. Platt assured the delegation that there would be no sign from Mr. Blaine that he would decline in the event of his nomination by the convention.

This opinion was based on a talk Mr. Platt had with Mr. Blaine last Monday, when the latter said he would inform Mr. Platt if he intended to decline what might come. It was stated positively that 52 out of the 72 New York delegates were sure for Blaine.

HARRISON WILL GET THERE

That is the Way it Looks to a West Virginia Delegate.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 3.—Delegates are coming in fast enough to give some chance to base a judgment. As I see it Blaine cannot be nominated and Harrison's success is a strong probability. His friends are not talking second choice. The Blaine movement is fatally weakened by the fact that he has not recanted his declination, and further because the leaders are his old enemies. West Virginia is comfortably quartered at the Brunswick, though when the boys all get up here to-morrow they will be closely packed.

MR. HART'S VIEWS.

He Voices the Sentiment of the West Virginia Delegation.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 3.—Mr. C. B. Hart, of Wheeling, and John D. Hewitt, of Bramwell, delegates at large from West Virginia, were among the afternoon arrivals. Mr. Hart said that West Virginia was originally for Blaine, was solid for him in 1884, would have voted for him in 1888 if he had run, and liked him very much. "But," he continued, "we considered his letter final. Blaine declined. His letter needed no interpretation, and it is now too late for him to do anything. If Blaine's name is presented I believe the delegation will vote for Harrison. I intend to do so myself."

"And so do I," said Mr. Hewitt, who stood by. Mr. Hart continued: "We have been well treated in West Virginia by the President, but that is not the controlling motive. I don't regard the Blaine movement as honest. It is marveled that he would take his enemies into his confidence now." He thought that others of the delegation would probably be of the same opinion. They were for Blaine, but are for Harrison. He believed either Blaine or Harrison would get the electoral vote of West Virginia. In conclusion he said: "We come from a southern state and are for Harrison. We have no officeholders in our delegation and no officeholders."

Ex-Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, said: "If I might dare to speak, I would say that Louisiana is for Harrison, and that the electoral vote of that state will be cast for him this fall."

SOME BLAINE VIEWS.

Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, Not for the Plumed Knight.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 3.—A rather decided opinion on the Presidential situation was that of Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota. Said he: "I believe it is now a foregone conclusion that Blaine will accept the nomination. Harrison has given me everything I asked, and I am not in a position of a disappointed man as has been stated. We selected Harrison four years ago because he was from a doubtful state. We wanted the state, not the man. If from North Dakota, he would not have been selected."

Referring to the solid Republican character of that state, he said: "The character now is to choose a man large enough to make the doubtful states Republican." Chauncey I. Filley, of St. Louis, delegate-at-large, said he believed his delegation would obey its instructions and vote for Harrison, at least on the first ballot. He thought, however, Missouri would cast two-thirds of its votes for Blaine, with Harrison out of the way, but beyond that he made no predictions.

When asked for views by an Associated Press representative, Senator Felton, of California, said: "I am not for Blaine personally. I don't want things to get so hot here though that the house we bet on will be badly handicapped at the start."

The senator will wait to hear from a delegation before finally deciding whether he will vote, but remarked significantly that he usually made up his mind for himself. It has been said that Senator Felton will second Harrison's nomination on behalf of California, but the senator states that he was invited to do so but has declined the honor.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW

Will Nominate Harrison--Quay and Clarkson Express Themselves.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3.—Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, will nominate Harrison, and Col. Henry M. Duffield, of Michigan, will present Alger's name, unless it should be thought best to have another state present it.

Senator Quay was seen this evening by an Associated Press representative. He said that he could not decide on the outcome of the convention as he had just arrived on the ground and there were few delegates here. "For myself," said he, "I am for Blaine."

"What will your delegation do?"

"Pennsylvania is a strong Blaine state, and the delegation will be strongly for Blaine, but exactly how strong numerically I cannot say, as the delegation has never had a meeting. The press dispatches from Washington stating that Secretary Blaine had informed a representative of the Associated Press that he would write no more letters and make no further announcements prior to the convention were received with rejoicings by the Blaine men, though they declare that nothing can prevent his nomination. Indeed, the general effect of this announcement of the secretary of state has been to add enthusiasm to the Blaine movement and inspire the boomers with increased confidence."

Chairman Clarkson was asked what the effect of the message would be. "I think it will nominate him," Mr. Clarkson replied very promptly.

"Will anybody nominate Mr. Blaine, and if so who?"

"I do not suppose he will be formally placed in nomination, but I can't tell now what course may be decided upon. There is no organized effort in any way for Mr. Blaine. No one is organizing a movement, but it springs from the American people who are urging him."

"PEOPLES' HEADQUARTERS"

Opened at Minneapolis, Which Means James G. Blaine.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 3.—There are two presidential tickets in the field to-night--the peoples' candidate and the administration candidate. This is the latest move of the Blaine managers, and in the lone hour of the night workmen are engaged in manufacturing and elaborating immense banners, which are to extend from Blaine headquarters across the two intersecting streets, and bear the words, "The Peoples Headquarters, Blaine, Blaine, Blaine."

Senator Washburn, of Minnesota, Col. Wm. A. Gavotte, of Michigan, and Hon. W. A. Eatis, of Minnesota, after consultation during the day with Messrs. Clarkson, Fassett, Conger and Quay, thus formally rechristened the Blaine boom and visitors to the spacious hall in the lumber exchange are now informed that they are in the peoples' headquarters, and that the plumed knight of reciprocity is the peoples' candidate--the choice of all factions and the special candidate of none.

In many other ways are impetus and enthusiasm being added to the Blaine movement. A pearl button, the product of American manufacture and Detroit ingenuity adorns the labels of hundreds of representatives to-night bearing the inscription "Reciprocity, Blaine, Protection."

HARRISON MEN NOT DISMAYED.

But in the midst of all this enthusiasm for the man from Maine, it must not be inferred that the Harrison men are dismayed. Far from it. They are fully as confident to-day as they were yesterday, and this confidence seems justified by the fact that despite the extravagant claims of the opposition party leaders, two-thirds of the delegates who have thus far arrived in the city are outspoken for the President's nomination. It may be that all this is but the result of chance, or that Harrison delegates are being summoned to the scene to offset the Blaine demonstration; but, however this may be, the strength of the President among the very men who are to make the nomination next week, is the source of much satisfaction to the Harrison people, and does not afford any gratification to their opponents. That Gen. Alger is at heart for Blaine, and that his own state delegation are now for Blaine for the Presidency no one any longer doubts. If there had been any skepticism upon this point it was removed to-night by the distribution of a circular from the Michigan headquarters bearing the portraits of Blaine and Harrison, and reading as follows:

MICHIGAN FOR BLAINE.

"Under the oaks at Jackson."

"Freemont and Dayton, 1853. Blaine and Alger, Minneapolis, 1892."

"The Republican party and the people demand the nomination of Blaine."

"Because he commands the confidence and admiration of our entire population in a greater degree than does any other living American to-day."

"Because the cardinal principles of the Republican party, 'reciprocity,' which he originated, and 'protection,' which he championed, of which he has been for more than a quarter of a century would be best administered in his hands."

"Because he believes in the eternal separation and divorce of church and schools."

"Because he can carry all the silver states without a pledge or a doubt."

"Because he can bring back to the Republican fold the hundreds of thousands of farmers who have been drifting from their moorings."

"Because a large majority of thoughtful, conservative Democrats, who understand and appreciate Mr. Blaine's great ideas as to reciprocity and protection, and who most earnestly commend and endorse his views as to the rights and duties of American citizenship will cast their votes for him this year."

"Because a great majority of the Republican party believe that one term in the presidential chair is honor enough for any man, and that this policy should be adhered to except in cases of great emergency of national danger, which do not exist at this time."

"Because Mr. Blaine most keenly realizes the necessity for enactment of legislation and judicious enforcement of the laws that will secure to the enfranchised colored men of the South their constitutional rights to cast one ballot at every election and have that ballot honestly counted."

On the reverse side of this circular is printed in full the famous speech of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, in nominating Blaine sixteen years ago.

This circular was submitted to Gen. Alger last night before he left Detroit, said Col. Gavotte, "and it met his approval. That is all I can say as to Gen. Alger's position--I think it is sufficient."

McKinley for Chairman.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., June 3.—The Republican national committee will begin its sessions to-morrow morning. On it falls the work of arranging all the details for the conduct of the convention.

There are more contests this year than ever before. In more than eighty cases two persons are fighting for the same seats. The south furnishes by the largest number of those disputes.

All parties seem to agree on McKinley for permanent chairman. He is warmly supported by the Harrison men, and the Blaine people are apparently not opposed to him.

Does Not Take Stock in It.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3.—An afternoon paper created some sensation by the statement that a nephew of James G. Blaine, who lives in Minneapolis, wore a Harrison badge. The nephew says he does not believe that there is sincerity in the present hurrah for his uncle.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

The Approaching International Conference--President's Views.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Secretary Foster on his return from New York gave the President an account of several conferences in that city with financiers representing different shades of the silver question. In commenting on these expressions of opinion, the President stated his own views to the secretary upon various points raised. These were, in general terms, those set forth in the letter of invitation to the European government to a monetary conference.

The President in his talk with the secretary assured him that he intended to take care that the composition of the commission shall be such as to convince all fair minded people that the strongest possible effort will be made to secure an international agreement upon an agreed ratio, and the opening of the mints of the world to the coinage of silver as freely as is now accorded to gold.

Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—The cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Secretary Tracy, who is at Annapolis. Secretary Blaine came in company with Secretary Elkins, but remained only half an hour, returning to the state department and resuming a conference with the Canadian commissioners, which was interrupted by his departure for the cabinet meeting. The conference is in reference to alleged discrimination at Montreal against American merchants. There were present the British minister, Hon. George E. Foster, Canadian minister of finance, and the Hon. McKenzle Bell, minister of customs. This government was represented by Secretary Blaine and Gen. J. W. Foster.

They Did Nothing.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The house at its evening session did nothing. [Friday night is set aside for the consideration of private pension bills.—Ed.]

New Incorporations Chartered.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 3.—The South Salt Company was chartered to-day by the secretary of state; principal office at Clifton, W. Va. The capital subscribed is $300 with the privilege granted to increase it to $500,000. The incorporators are B. J. Redmond and E. J. Redmond and others of Clifton, W. Va. Also, the Webb Club House, of Wheeling, W. Va., principal office at Wheeling. Capital subscribed $415 with the privilege granted to increase it to $20,000. The incorporators are Joseph Webb, Owen Sullivan, Harry J. Fink, John G. Kline and Edward Ames, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Will Not Go Into Camp.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—It is highly improbable now that Ohio's national guard will go into camp this year on the permanent camp grounds at Newark. The grounds are not yet in order, and no appropriation for their improvement has been made by the last legislature. The different regiments will probably camp at various places as heretofore.

Minister Arrested for Libel.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., pastor of the Twenty-third Street Baptist church, was held in $1,000 bail in the Jefferson Market court this morning on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by Ex-Geo. Commissioner Joseph Koch, who claims that the reverend gentleman libeled him criminally in one of his recent sensational sermons.

Whipped by Masked Men.

TIRTON, IND., June 3.—Early yesterday morning a dozen masked men took Alfred Midkiff from his home at Sharpsville, in the northern part of this county, tied him to a tree and gave him a whipping. Midkiff's body was frightfully cut by the keen switches and he is now confined in bed. Officers have gone to the scene of the whipping.

Cut His Wife to Pieces.

LEXINGTON, KY., June 3.—In Castor county, east of here, Austin Porter became angered because his wife locked him out of the house, and finally forcing an entrance seized a carving knife and cut her to pieces. He fled to the mountains and a posse is after him to lynch him.

Refused His Attention.

MENDOCINO, CAL., June 3.—Julia Scott was shot yesterday by William Harris at Greenwood, Cal. Two shots were fired and both took effect in her body. She will die. Harris shot himself through the heart and died. It is supposed the lady refused his attentions.

Wasn't Tortured to Confess.

ORLANDO, FLA., June 3.—W. H. Fitch, one of the ringleaders in the Monroe Junction express robbery and murder, in a sworn statement denies the published reports that he was tortured to compel him to confess.

HE WOULDN'T GAMBLE

But the Sharps Got His Money at the Revolver's Mouth.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

STREUBENVILLE, OHIO, June 3.—The story of the reported robbery and victimizing of John Hanna, a prominent and wealthy Cross Creek township farmer, is just leaking out, having been suppressed for the purpose of possibly apprehending the thief. It appears that one day a well dressed stranger drove up in a fine buggy to the farmer and announced that he had been looking around for a farm in that vicinity and had seen none that pleased him as well as the one which Hanna owned. The farmer was not anxious to sell, but would do so at his own price, provided he could buy another immediately. The stranger was evidently posted upon the real estate of the neighborhood and referred him to another farm in Salem township that was upon the market, which could be purchased cheap for cash. The stranger remained all night with the farmer and next day they came to Streubenville, when the farmer drew $700 out of the bank, and they returned home for dinner. Upon the return another stranger was awaiting them, anxious to sell fruit trees. Neither wanted any fruit trees, but the two strangers began bluffing each other, and finally engaged in a card game in which the first stranger won $150. Both tried every power of persuasion upon the farmer to join in the game, but his education in Hoyle had been neglected and he was opposed to gambling. Finally they hipped up, and started away. The farmer in No. one's buggy. When a short distance away some pretense was made for the farmer leaving the buggy, and both covered him with revolvers and made the demand that he hand over the $700. The farmer attempted to resist, but a shot through the crown of his hat demonstrated that resistance was useless, and he gave up the money. Both jumped in the buggy, and with a few lashes upon the spirited horse were soon out of sight. The story of the robbery was only communicated to a few, but no trace of the robbers has yet been secured.

EPISCOPAL COUNCIL.

Third Day's Session--Delegates to the General Convention.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., June 3.—The third day's session of the Episcopal Council was very interesting, as most of the day was consumed in very epic business sessions. There was but one sermon and that was preached at 7 o'clock this morning by Rev. W. U. Brooking, of Point Pleasant. The committee on church unity in their report recommended a more friendly relation with other Christian denominations. The committee on the needs and bounds of parishes presented a valuable document on the history of the parish organization from as far back as 1935, and which gives the many changes which the work and organization of the church has undergone since that time. The report of the diocesan mission committee shows that $2,500 were received from the Sunday schools for this work, $700 from the American Missionary society and $900 from the Board of Missions, and that out of this seventeen missionaries in this diocese were aided. Three more men will be added to the mission work.

The report also shows that 112 confirmations were made in the mission field. The committee in charge of prayer work recommended that the delegates to general convention which meets in Baltimore, do what they can to prevent further legislation on this subject. The following delegates to the general convention which meets in Baltimore in October were selected: Cleland delegates--Revs. Dr. R. R. Swope; Dallas Tucker; R. D. Rollier and S. S. Moore. Alternates--Revs. J. J. Brittingham; Dr. A. Gibbons; Henry Thomas and G. A. Gibbons. Lay delegates--W. S. Laidley; W. P. Craigbill; B. M. Ambler and E. J. Le. Alternates--W. E. Watson; W. G. Harrison; J. A. Striden and Capt. W. B. Cobbleton.

The committee on parishes report shows 247 baptisms, 3,127 communicants, 2,910 in Sunday schools, 23 rectories and 50 churches. They report the value of church property $312,555.57, and amount of contributions $45,234.66. They report the churches at Huntington, Point Pleasant and Clarksburg as having progressed more than any other churches in the diocese.

RUN THE QUARANTINE

And Taken Down With Smallpox--Hastled Out of Parkersburg.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 3.—Two men named Kild and Grier from Pomeroy, O., the smallpox infected district, slipped past the quarantine officers here last night and stopped at a hotel, and to-day, it having been learned where they were from, a veritable panic was created when it was stated they were down with the smallpox.

The men were hustled out of town in a hurry and the excitement subsided. There is no smallpox here and quarantine is being most rigidly enforced. The disease is still spreading at Pomeroy.

High School Commencement.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., June 3.—The commencement of the Martinsburg high school took place in the Central opera house to-night and was a brilliant success. The graduates were Misses Corn Oster, Mabel Frigatt, Mary Katz, Belle Ridings, Marie Sakeman, Dora Schleuss, Essie Thompson and Allen Noll. The post-graduates were Misses Maggie Blue and Hettie Rodrick. Addresses were made by Senator Charles J. Faulkner and M. H. Warner, of Washington.

Colonel Charlesworth's Successor.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—Governor McKinley has removed James F. Charlesworth, of St. Clairsville, from the board of trustees of the Ohio Soldier's and Sailors' Home at Sandusky. J. J. Sullivan, of Cleveland, has been appointed to fill out the unexpired term ending in April, 1893.

Recognition of a Race.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—Charles A. Cottrell, incorporation clerk in the secretary of state's office, has been appointed assistant secretary of the national colored convention. As Mr. Cottrell is a colored man, this is considered an important recognition of his race.

PARLIAMENT CLOSES

And New Elections Will Shortly be Held.

PLEDGES OF THE GOVERNMENT

In Regard to the Irish Local Bill are not Redeemed--Gladstone's Campaign will be Short--Mr. Carnegie Contributes to the Liberal Party in a Handsome Manner--Notes and News of Interest.

[Copyright, 1892, by the New York Associated Press.]

LONDON, June 3.—The last session of the present parliament virtually closed to-day. The desire of a section of the cabinet strongly supported by Mr. Chamberlain, of the Unionist party, to pass the Irish local government bill, so that they would be able to go before the constituencies with their Irish pledges redeemed, has failed to prevail against electoral exigencies.

The radicals have decided not to oppose the passage of the estimates which will be voted in the desultory fashion in which millions are usually voted at the far end of a session. The formalities of the dissolution of parliament are certain to occur before June 25, and the electoral contest has already commenced. The date of the opening of Mr. Gladstone's Midlothian campaign is not yet fixed. His idea of addressing small meetings from village to village has been abandoned, and instead he will address three great meetings.

The liberal election funds, already swollen by large contributions from wealthy liberals desirous of political promotion, have received an unexpected accession in the labor interest. The contribution comes in directly from Andrew Carnegie, the American iron manufacturer, who thus puts to a practical test his principle that wealth should be used for the benefit of the people. A difficulty, however, has arisen as to which of the genuine labor candidates are entitled to the benefits.

The McCarthys are now completing their election programme. The whole of the fifty-five sitting members will seek a re-election, and all of the Parnellite seats will be contested by McCarthys. The amount of the American donation to the election fund will largely determine the fate of the Parnellites.

Russian petroleum refiners are urging their government to try to induce the Khedive of Egypt to refuse to sanction the regulations permitting the transportation of petroleum in bulk through the Suez canal. Russia, however, will not interfere unless England cooperates. The Irish informer, Lee Caron, is seriously ill, in a secluded country village.

The German emperor has definitely accepted an invitation to pay a private visit to Queen Victoria at Osborne, Island of Wight, during the summer.

As a result of an inquiry instituted by the French minister of the interior, the police administration at Paris has ordered the commissary and inspector at Havre, who were responsible for the escape of the American bunco man, O'Brien, be reduced in rank.

The acquittal of Mrs. Montague, who is serving a term of imprisonment for killing her own child, and who was removed from the Londonderry jail to Dublin to-day, is expected about the last week in June. Her husband's appeal for her release has been rejected.

Mrs. Langtry's salary at the Criterion theatre is £100 weekly. She has just refused £10,000 for a race horse said to have been presented to her by Mr. Baird.

BIRKENBERG MINE DISASTER.

Four Hundred Employes Killed--Bodies Horribly Mutilated.

PRAGUE, June 3.—Owing to the excitement that prevailed when it was known that the fire that broke out Tuesday night in the Birkenberg silver mine near Pribram and caused the death of a number of miners many contradictory statements were made as to the number of those who had perished. One of the first reports had it that forty had been killed. Now, however, that the excitement has died out to a great extent and inquiries have been made among the survivors it is estimated that fully four hundred of the employes lost their lives in the disaster.

Among those who were killed were five students from the mining academy, who were studying the work of the mine to gain a practical knowledge of mining operations. Gas continues to be found in great volumes in the mine, and the Maria shaft is so filled with it that the volunteers who are seeking to recover the bodies are greatly hampered in their work. In fact it is thought now that it will be a fortnight before all the bodies will be taken out.

Large trenches are being dug in the church yard in which the dead will be buried. These trenches are large enough to hold 300 bodies. Many of the bodies recovered were almost completely destroyed, only a few fragments sufficient to fill a child's coffin remaining.

Many affecting scenes have been witnessed when the persons who have lost relatives have sought to identify the charred and mutilated remains by fragments of cloth that are sometimes burned into the flesh. Many of the dead will never be identified and this adds to the sorrow and mourning that is so general throughout the district.

Every effort is being made by the authorities to alleviate the distress of the sufferers and to tide them over until they are in a measure able to provide for themselves.

Baron Hirsch's Filly Wins.

LONDON, June 3.—This was the last day of the Epsom summer meetings. The principal race was the Oaks stakes, which is the principal race of the year for fillies. Baron De Hirsch's great filly La Fleche which started a favorite for the Derby but which ran second in that race, proved the victor in to-day's event.

Paris Bankers Fail.

PARIS, June 3.—Blondel & Garnier, bankers of this city, failed with liabilities amounting to 3,000,000 francs. The failure was due to losses on the bourse.

Snow in Texas.

EL PASO, TEX., June 3.—Frisco trainmen reaching here yesterday report a fall of snow at Wister Junction. It was very cold here.

C. M. EADER'S TRIAL.

The Evidence Concluded Yesterday and the Argument Begun.

The Eader trial for embezzlement again occupied all of the time in Judge Paul's court yesterday. The opening evidence of the day was uninteresting detail for the state. For the defense several witnesses were examined, and among them Capt. Jack Merriman, for many years agent of the Adams company at this point, who was examined as an expert. In the course of his cross-examination prosecuting Attorney Howard presented an envelope sealed just as the one in question was sealed, and asked the witness to open it by breaking the two seals and ascertain if the $500 package could not be extracted. "Oh, that don't go," said Captain Dovenor. "I see how they have had all this thing fixed up."

"That's an insinuation, your Honor, that I wish Captain Dovenor to withdraw," said Mr. Howard.

"Yes, I think the insinuation is wrong," said the court, "and should be withdrawn, Captain."

Then Captain Dovenor looked at the envelope again, and finding the mullage in the upper corner had not been stuck he exclaimed:

"I will not withdraw what I have said."

"Mr. Clerk, fine Capt. Dovenor five dollars," said the court.

"I'll pay it," said the captain, pulling a roll from his pocket and handing to the sheriff a $5 bill.

Late in the forenoon session Eader was put on the stand. He told his story of the occurrences, and denied emphatically every charge of guilt against him. He made a splendid witness for himself, and is evidently an intelligent, shrewd young man.

Eader's examination lasted into the night session. At 8 o'clock Mr. Howard began the opening argument for the prosecution, and spoke one hour. After he closed court adjourned till 9 a. m. to-day.

In the Circuit Court.

In Part I of the circuit court yesterday, Judge Campbell on the bench, the jury in the case of Reeves vs. Wheeling & Elm Grove Railway Company having failed to agree, was adjourned over until this morning.

The case of A. B. McLain's administrator vs. Kline Bros. was continued generally at the defendant's cost.

The case of Henry M. Bently vs. the Franklin Insurance Company, was remanded to rules, with leave to file an amended declaration.

In the case of Charles Harbruck, guardian of Clara Harbruck, vs. Louisa Davison, the sale of real estate was confirmed.

An order was entered authorizing the trustees of the Presbyterian church at the Forks of Wheeling to sell certain property of the church.

THE BODY IDENTIFIED.

It was John Neville's Remains found below Moundsville a Month ago.

A lady named Neville came down from East Liverpool yesterday to learn all the facts in connection with the finding of a floater just below Moundsville about a month ago. It was reported to be D. M. Carey's body at first, and his friends went down, but it was not Carey, and from papers on the body it was thought he was from Pittsburgh, but as no friends came forward to claim the body it was buried near where it was brought to shore.

A full account of the matter appeared in the INTELLIGENCER at the time, and the incident was almost forgotten until the arrival of the East Liverpool lady. After getting a minute description of the drowned man, clothing, papers and all, she says there is not a particle of doubt in her mind that the unfortunate man was her brother, John Neville.

So thoroughly convinced on this point is she, that
